Delivering excellent, accessible healthcare

How can the Outreach Library Service help me?

Evidence-based Practice

All healthcare workers are entitled to access high quality evidence to support best practice in patient care and their own professional training and development.

Your Outreach Library service provides electronic resources to facilitate evidence based practice as well as training opportunities to help you find, access and get the best from these resources

Finding the evidence -

These are some of the electronic resources and databases that you can access online with a NHS OpenAthens account:

Training

Our courses are designed to help you search efficiently for evidence and access healthcare information online, wherever you are. Training can be delivered at your place of work or in one of our libraries, either 1-2-1 or for a group.

We also offer an evidence search service;
contact us to find out more or visit our website:
